Inspectors in charge of meat inspection will please be governed in accordance with the following communication from the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department:

In the delivery of fresh or frozen meats and meat products, packed in cases, it has occurred in some instances that they have been rejected due solely to the fact that contents of cases have slightly exceeded the maximum weights set forth in specifications. In the endeavor to compactly fill containers it is recognized that the net weights may occasionally be slightly in excess of the maximum provided for. Therefore, in so far as the net weight of the product is concerned, a tolerance of 5 per cent over the maximum prescribed for each case will hereafter be allowed.

On January 30, 1931, the respondent filed a satisfactory bond with the Bureau of Animal Industry, complying with the order of the Acting Secretary of Agriculture, issued on January 5, 1931. On February 11, 1931, the order of the Acting Secretary of Agriculture, suspending the respondent from registration as a dealer and market agency, was revoked and terminated.

Docket No. 326.—In re Healy & Co., market agency, Fort Worth, Tex. On October 17, 1930, the respondents admitted the truth of the matters and things alleged and waived a hearing thereon. On January 31, 1931, respondents were suspended from registration as a market agency for a period of six months, with leave during said period to apply for revocation of this suspension upon a satisfactory showing that they have filed a reasonable bond to suitable trustees to secure the performance of their obligations incurred as a market agency. It was further ordered that respondents cease and desist from doing business as a market agency without maintaining a reasonable bond to suitable trustees to secure the performance of their obligations incurred as such market agency.

Docket No. 327.—In re Goodson-Green Co., market agency and dealer, Kansas City Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. (Notice of inquiry issued September 23, 1930.) The respondents were ordered to cease and desist from continuing in violations of the packers and stockyards act by engaging in or using any unfair or deceptive practices in the conduct of their business as a market agency in connection with the handling of livestock in commerce at a stockyard. It was further ordered that the registration of the respondents be suspended for a period of one year.

(Inc.), and the Producers Livestock Commission Association; and combined and agreed to refuse and refrain and caused other registrants to refuse and refrain and had individually refused and refrained from having any business relations with the above-mentioned firms. A hearing was held in this case beginning November 6, 1930. On December 9, 1930, oral argument was made before the Acting Secretary of Agriculture by counsel for all parties. Hilton & Co., and issued a cease and desist and suspension order against all other respondents, the suspension from registration to become effective in 20 days from the date of the order and to continue for 90 days. The Secretary reserved the right to modify or set aside the suspension provisions of the above order, or to suspend the effective date of said provisions in respect to any respondent or respondents who shall establish to his satisfaction that they or any of them are complying and will continue to comply in good faith with the cease and desist provisions of said order.
